

ZTO Express (2057 HK)

Lower parcel volume guidance but largely expected; ASP story well intact

ZTO's 1Q22 adjusted net profit grew 35% YoY to RMB1bn, largely in line with our expectation. The company revised down its full year parcel volume growth range guidance to 12-16% (from 18-24% previously) largely due to COVID-related lockdowns, which we believe has been widely expected. ZTO's parcel shipment volume has gradually improved. We expect a high single-digit growth in May (versus a decline in Apr), followed by further improvement in Jun. We revised down our 2022E/24E earnings by 7-8% as we model in more conservative assumptions on volume and cost of sorting center and transportation. We trimmed our TP to HK$292 from HK$317, based on unchanged target multiple of 35x. We continue to expect the favourable industry landscape will continue to support higher ASP going forward. Maintain BUY.

Key highlights in 1Q22 results:

- Reported net profit in 1Q22 grew 70% YoY to RMB906mn. Excluding the share-based compensation expense and other non-recurring items, adjusted net profit grew 35% YoY to RMB1bn. The growth was driven by (1) 22% YoY revenue growth, (2) 3.5ppt YoY gross margin expansion to 20.5%, and (3) stable SG&A expense YoY.
- Parcel volume +17% YoY to 5.2bn units with market share gain. The volume growth rate was higher than the industry average of 10%. Market share expanded 1.5ppt to 21.6%. We believe that ZTO successfully gained some market shares from BEST (the express delivery business acquired by J&T Express).
- ASP +8% YoY. Parcel delivery ASP increased 8% YoY (or RMB0.11/unit) and 4% QoQ (or RMB0.06/unit) to RMB1.45/unit in 1Q22, as major industry players have continued to put the focus on profitability.
- Unit cost +3.6% YoY. Unit cost of transportation was stable YoY at RMB0.57/unit, as the fuel cost hike was offset by efficiency improvement (84% of self-owned trucks were 15-17 meters long). That said, unit sorting hub cost increased 6.5% YoY to RMB0.36/unit, due to higher salary and depreciation. Unit gross margin grew 31% YoY but dropped 12% QoQ to RMB0.31/unit, still at a decent level in our view.
- Major risk factors: (1) continuous lockdowns; (2) further slowdown of online retail sales; and (3) further increase in diesel price.
